PLAN NEW ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR FORTS

Japanese Are Making Most Careful Preparations for Assault Which Is Said to Be Scheduled for Tuesday---The Bombardment Continues Daily.

Chefoo, Sept. 10.—10 p. m.—General Nogi's next assault upon Port Arthur will be directed chiefly against Rihlungshan and Kikwanshan forts which are the strongest forts on the northeast flank.

This information is derived from an unquestionable authority who has just finished a visit over the Japanese line around the forts and conversed with the [illegible] allowed him to make personal observations.

The elevation of Rihlungshan is 350 feet. Three hundred yards away on the same range is another hill so much lower that Rihlungshan protects it from all bombardment except from Itzshan and Kikwanshan. This hill is [illegible] which the Chinese were [illegible] the capture of which the Japanese feel many lives. Here the Japanese have strengthened the forts previously mentioned in the dispatches as having been established. This position is the foundation for the Japanese preparations for the next assault.

Planned for Tuesday.

Japanese who left Dalny yesterday say that the grand assault on Port Arthur which it was rumored was planned by the Japanese for today has been postponed until Tuesday next, September 13, and that a still further postponement is possible as the Japanese intend to make every possible preparation before again hurling themselves upon the worn-out garrison.

The work of constructing trenches is advancing rapidly, considering the fire which the diggers are compelled to endure. Preparations for the assault on Kikwanshan are proceeding in a similar fashion, although the Japanese in the nearest battery bearing directly on this fort are somewhat more distant than those at Palichwang are from Rihlungshan. The ranges of hills crowned by Kikwanshan and Rihlungshan have irregular slopes, enabling a large force of Japanese to rest securely some distance up the slope. The Japanese have tents pitched and they are relieved every three days. Food and ammunition and other supplies are brought them at night only for the reason that the detachments are obliged to cross a level stretch before reaching a place of safety. The Japanese trenches almost under the noses of the Russians are now partially completed. The Russians endeavor constantly to level the incline, shelling the projections which afford shelter to the Japanese who in turn bombard to prevent the Russians from succeeding.

Extraordinary Preparations.

There seems little doubt that the assault on Rihlungshan and Kikwanshan will be the most trying one that the Russians have yet resisted. Everything which ingenuity can suggest is being done by the Japanese to render the attack successful particular attention being paid to measures which enable the Japanese to retain the forts in the event that they capture them. Among the contrivances to be employed are numerous heavy movable shields which have been constructed at Dalny and which will be used to afford protection. Guns and shields will be moved as closely together as possible through the trenches before the assault is made in order that they may be quickly hauled to the summit when the forts are taken. Two full divisions are available in this vicinity, the entire Japanese force now circumscribing Port Arthur is estimated at 80,000 fighting men.

Home Made Powder.

The Russians are now using exclusively powder evidently manufactured at Port Arthur. The smoke from the powder enables an instant detection of the source of the fire. The explosive power of the powder is far less than that of smokeless powder which the Russians seem to have exhausted.

The Russian shells are frequently found to be old Chinese affairs filled down to fit the Russian guns.

The Japanese plan for the coming assault does not, it is understood, include an assault on Itzshan. The nature of the ground, the Japanese have found at severe cost, precludes a successful issue. Itzshan, however, will it is said, be engaged by artillery from Louisa Bay for the purpose of attracting the fire of Itzshan away from the main attack.

The informant of the Associated Press is chief of an Argentine colonel who is with the Japanese saying that the Russian defenses facing the Japanese have been made with a perfection undreamed of. The inner sides of the fort, however, are not so well constructed and are supposedly far weaker.

Prepared to Lose Heavily.

With Rihlungshan and Kikwanshan captured, the Japanese will practically control [illegible] forts from their weaker sides. The Japanese say they are prepared to lose heavily in taking Rihlungshan and Kikwanshan. These forts, like a majority of the 54 forts surrounding Port Arthur have six-inch steel shields loopholed with rapid fire guns at intervals. These guns, according to the Associated Press informant, and not land mines, have proved most disastrous to the Japanese. The shields are impervious to field artillery. Nothing but siege guns will make an impression upon them. The Russians also send strong electric currents through the wire entanglements surrounding the forts. The press correspondents with the Japanese are two miles from the front, but the hilly ground prevents them from seeing anything. The fighting since August 31, has been unimportant. The Japanese bombard daily in the morning when the sun assists them in aiming. The Russians reply in the afternoon when the sun is in their favor.

SENATOR JAMES OWEN.
Chairman Republican Executive Committee.

SUPREMACY OF LAW

Keynote of the Ringing Resolutions Adopted by the Republicans of Teller County.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 10.—The report of the resolutions committee and the platform adopted by the Republican convention of Teller county, introduced and read by Judge Robert Graham is as follows:

Proud in the expounders of its principles from the days of Lincoln to the manly Roosevelt, severing its glorious past and holding forth in its judgment as assuring an equally commendable future we renew our allegiance to the Republican party, pledge its national candidate our confidence and support and indorse the platform of its principles as enunciated at the national convention.

As in the dark days of our country the Republican party reared from the people a Lincoln, who stood firm in the turmoil of uncertainty and, as loneliness rang through the ages declared that this government of the people by the people and for the people should not pass from the earth so when in Colorado organized conspiracy threatened the safety of our government, when courts and public officers were supine in lawlessness, weak vacillating and even conniving at disorder and crime, when treason against the law and the state was afoot and a lawless element plotting unchecked to commit crimes against the lives of Colorado citizens and destroy their property, the Republican party reared from the people a governor with the courage to [illegible] and [illegible] alone and in the face of bitter calumny and malicious abuse to declare in firm tones that so long as strength were given him he would use every power at his control to defeat the enemies of our state government and uphold the law.

Therefore be it resolved by the Republicans of Teller county in convention assembled. That we unqualifiedly indorse the administration of the governor of the state by Governor James H. Peabody. That we commend him as a man not afraid and one who seeks his duty, did it fearlessly and with malice towards none but with justice to all.

We ask of the Republican state convention his nomination by acclamation and call upon the people of sister counties who love their homes, their state, their nation and the principles it was founded to advance, to join with us in re-electing him to the high office he has so ably filled for the last two years, to the end that we may have peace and prosperity, equal laws and there equal consideration for all that [illegible] rights and liberties may be maintained. That lawlessness shall be stamped out and never again threaten the safety of the state and the good name of our commonwealth.

"Resolved, That we earnestly indorse the record made by our congressmen, H. M. Hogg and F. E. Brooks and send them the congratulations of the Republicans of Teller county.

"Resolved, That we call upon all citizens of the county to unite with us in the election to office of men who will discharge their duties well and faithfully without fear or favor, that order shall be maintained and the laws upheld, that we pledge the people an administration that shall do credit to the honesty and good judgment of this community and to permanently restore order and law."

TELLER COUNTY PUTS UP STRONG TICKET

NOMINEES OF THE CONVENTION.

For Sheriff—Edward Bell.
For Clerk and Recorder—W. E. Dingman.
For Treasurer—S. A. Phipps.
For Assessor—Charles M. Crozier.
For Judge—Thornton Thomas.
For Coroner—Henry Cassell.
For Surveyor—Geo. Atherton.
For Superintendent of Schools—Dr. Katherine Polly.
For Commissioner—
First District—W. E. Meek.
Second District—T. S. Davidson.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 10.—The above candidates for county offices were today nominated by the Republican convention of Teller county which proved to be one of the most representative and harmonious political gatherings ever held in the district.

The convention was held in the Grand Opera house which was filled to its utmost capacity. The stage was handsomely decorated with the stars and stripes. On the curtain, draped in American flags, hung the pictures of [illegible] in the center was Lincoln on one side and McKinley on the other, while in front of [illegible] trait of Gov. Peabody.

The greatest enthusiasm was shown throughout the convention and at its close all were satisfied that a ticket had been placed in the field that would be an honor to any county and one that could not be defeated.

Chairman James Owen of the republican committee called the convention to order at 11:10 a. m. Secretary Charles Gillett then read the call for the convention and the report of the [illegible] roll call committee of which F. M. Reardon was chairman showed [illegible]

Temporary Organization.

Nominations for a temporary organization were then in order. General Reardon presented the name of Frank W. Preston as temporary chairman and the nomination was unanimous. Loud calls were made for Mr. Preston and he responded in a general speech in the course of which he said:

"The hands of the people have [illegible] before been bound in this county by an organization known as Democratic Elections have been lost by our party on previous occasions but never has there been so much [illegible] as we have here today. We have a party [illegible] that will see that right is done.

"I am sure you will send a delegation to the state convention that will [illegible] especially in the nomination for governor of that wise statesman and distinguished citizen Jas. H. Peabody. (Loud and enthusiastic cheering.)

"The law and order policy which is inaugurated in this district has been the cause of unexampled prosperity and we will now nominate men who will, as will perpetuate the existing conditions."

Senator Owen nominated John Kelley of Elkton as temporary secretary. W. H. Gillett of Victor was nominated as assistant secretary and both nominations were unanimous.

Committee Chairmen.

On motion the chair announced the appointment of committees of which the following gentlemen acted as chairmen: W. H. Griffith on [illegible] business and permanent organization, on resolutions, Judge Robert Graham, on [illegible] and on [illegible]

Several committee reports were made and then an adjournment was moved, before taking the vote it was announced that the ladies of the Republican club had prepared a lunch for the delegates at the clubhouse. The convention then adjourned until 1:30.

It was a tribute to the unity that [illegible] was the friend of the [illegible] vention was called to order by [illegible] man Owen. [illegible] read the report of the committee on [illegible] formations, organization and order of

BRITISH EXPLANATION OF ATTITUDE TOWARD TIBET.

Lhasa, Tibet, Thursday, Sept. 8.—Via Gyangtse, Sept. 10.—In a speech after signing the Treaty with Tibet, September 7, Col. Younghusband, the British political agent, pointed out that the British had avoided interfering in the smallest degree with the internal affairs of the country. They had not annexed any territory and had fully recognized the continued suzerainty of China. They had merely sought to insure the observance of the treaty of 1890 that trade relations between India and Tibet should be established and that Tibet should not depart from her traditional policy in regard to political relations with other countries.

THRILLING RESCUES IN NEW YORK FIRE

MORE THAN A SCORE OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN TAKEN OUT OF BURNING TENEMENT BY FIREMEN.

New York, Sept. 10.—More than a score of women and children were rescued from a fire in a five-story tenement on Fifth avenue early today. The blaze started under a stairway on the second floor and spread quickly to the roof.

One woman was confined to her bed by illness and the flames had reached her room when a fireman broke in the window and carried her down the fire-escape. Her husband and children, who had remained in the flat, were carried down extension ladders by the firemen. So quickly did the flames spread through the tenement that the families living above the second floor had no time to gather clothing.

Twelve families occupied the second and third floors and all had narrow escapes, losing everything they possessed.

The most sensational rescue of the fire was when a mother and two children were taken from the ledge of a fourth story window. It was made after a courageous show of bravery and resourcefulness on the part of two ladder men. The woman and children had been driven from their apartment by the flames and were clinging to the ledge crying for help when the firemen arrived on the scene. When a 35-foot ladder was thrown up against the building it fell short of the fourth-story window. There was no time to make a change and two men rushed up the ladder. Balancing himself on the topmost round while his companion Gould, crossed his legs for a more secure position, the ladder man caught the children as the mother dropped them into his arms. Other firemen had taken positions on the ladder by this time and the rescued ones were passed safely down from their dangerous position.

PROPOSED ADOPTION OF A UNIVERSAL ALPHABET.

Boston, Sept. 10.—Boston university has issued a circular inviting opinions on a proposal to hold an international conference for the purpose of adopting a "universal alphabet" by which to influence the pronunciation of words in the leading European languages.

As a preliminary measure it is desired to obtain the opinion of the learned public ability of the proposed conference. For this purpose the present circular has been sent to the members of the American Philological association, who are to meet in St. Louis about the middle of September. At that time the chief philologists of the world will be assembled and the subject will be considered.

PROPHECIES AS TO THE RESULT IN MAINE.

Portland, Sept. 10.—Chairman Simpson, of the Republican state committee, today issued a statement concerning the election in Maine next Monday in which he claims that Mr. Cobb, the gubernatorial candidate, would carry the state by a plurality of 10,000 to 12,000.

In a counter statement Mr. Jones, chairman of the Democratic state committee, characterized the Republican claims as being "an old trick of claiming more than they expect and then being satisfied at what they call a victory." The Democratic leader said would take for their standard the Republican majority of 33,384 over the Democrats in the last presidential year. A single vote over this he said is a gain, or less a loss.

REPORTED SINKING OF JAPANESE SQUADRON.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—The Novikrai of Port Arthur, official organ of Viceroy Alexieff, in its issue of September 5, a copy of which was received here today, says the Japanese have erected a hospital at Louisa bay and apparently confirms previous reports to the effect that a Japanese vessel was sunk while laying mines off Port Arthur, August 31.

The Japanese squadron on the horizon September 1 consisted of the protected cruisers Matsushima, Tsukushima, Hashidate and Akagshi, the armored cruiser Adzuma and 12 torpedo boat destroyers.

COQUELIN UNDERGOES OPERATION ON THROAT.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Coquelin, the editor, underwent an operation for an affection of the glands of the throat today. It was performed without anesthetics. It is said at Coquelin's house this evening that the patient would soon recover.

CONSOLIDATION OF LARGE COEUR D'ALENE PROPERTIES

Wallace, Idaho, Sept. 10.—One of the largest mining deals made in the Coeur d'Alenes in recent years has been consummated by the final consolidation of the Frisco, Empire and Frisco groups. The Frisco, which is one of the oldest producing mines in the district, has a total output of several millions of dollars. The other groups are not so well known. The new company will be capitalized at $5,000,000. The Frisco is owned by New York capitalists and the Empire and Frisco properties by local mining men.

EPIDEMIC OF DISEASE IS FEARED IN BOTH ARMIES

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10—4:51 p. m.—The Lyd Gazet affirms fear an epidemic of disease will break out in both armies, the torrents of rain which fell after the ten days' battle at Liao-Yang having converted the ways into mud, hungry troops to sleep without shelter in mire by the roadsides. In any case it is believed to be certain that the hardships endured by the soldiers will result in a great increase in sickness.

SERIOUS FLOODS OF RIO GRANDE RIVER.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 10.—A flood of the Rio Grande river which has been overflowing its banks for the past week came to heavy ruins caused considerable damage today in the town of Presidio Del Norte, two hundred miles below El Paso. Merchants have lost much of their stock and there is general damage to household effects. No loss of life is reported.

MEN OF NATIONAL PROMINENCE GIVE STRAIGHT-FORWARD EVIDENCE

Peruna Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

COL. NATHANIEL SHATSWELL, 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery, Army of the Potomac; past commander in the Union Veteran Legion and a prominent Grand Army man, writes from the Museum, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., as follows:

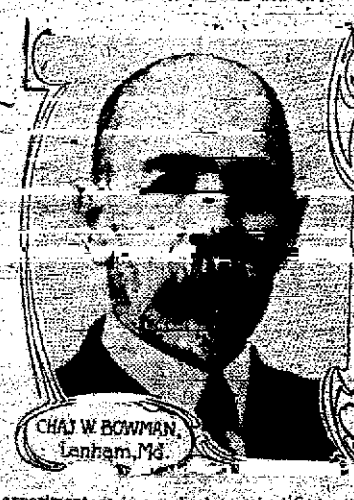
"I commend Peruna as a most agreeable as well as effective medicine. Catarrh and [illegible] colds are checked and generally cured by a judicious use of it. Peruna is a good promoter of digestion and is an excellent remedy for a weak stomach. It tones up the appetite and is not at all disagreeable to take."—Col. Nathaniel Shatswell.

Mrs. W. E. Grissom, Reno, Lamar county, Texas, writes:

"I took Peruna faithfully over two months, and the result is a thoroughly renovated system and a strong, buoyant feeling to say nothing of a cure of the chronic catarrh. Therefore I shall avail myself of every opportunity to speak of Peruna as a catarrh cure."—Mrs. W. E. Grissom.

A great many remedies to temporarily relieve catarrh have been devised from time to time, such as sprays, snuffs, creams and other local applications, but as a rule the medical profession has little or no enthusiasm in the treatment of catarrh.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna.



CHAS. W. BOWMAN, Lenham, Md.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieutenant and Adjutant 4th M. S. M., Gov. Vols., [illegible] Lenham, Md., in the following letter:

"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruna.

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventative whenever threatened with an attack.

"Members of my family also use it for like ailments. We are recommending it to our friends."—Chas. W. Bowman.

Peruna operates [illegible] to strengthen the nerves and give tone to the mucous membranes.

Many people have been cured by Peruna as a Tonic Family Medicine.

There is no other internal catarrh remedy that has proven effective in all cases.

Pe-ru-na Cannot Be Imitated.

Some things may be successfully imitated, but Peruna cannot be. Everyone purchasing Peruna should look out for imitations. Examine each package carefully. If you have ever used Peruna or if you have ever taken it, you are not in the slightest danger of being misled by these imitations, but all those beginning the use of Peruna should beware.

Believe no one who tells you that he has a remedy that is making the same cures that Peruna is making.

Hon. D. L. Russell, ex-Congressman of North Carolina, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I [illegible] fully [illegible] with Gen. [illegible] Senator Pritchard and Congressman Blackburn and [illegible] in recommending Peruna as an invigorating tonic."—D. L. Russell.

Peruna is the only reliable internal remedy ever devised to cure catarrh, no matter where located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

OUT OF THE LONG AGO THEY CAME; TOLD OF EARLY DAYS

Gathering of Pioneers at Stratton Park Notable for Number Present and the Spirit of Good Fellowship That Prevailed--With Song and Story They Enlivened the Big Old-Fashioned Picnic.

HON. IRVING HOWBERT.
Whose Reminiscences of Pioneer Days Interested Big Crowd at Stratton

The Pathfinders of central Colorado and the builders of El Paso county thought from the days of '60 down to the present time. He spoke of the trip across the plains in the prairie schooner and the which later gave way to the stage coach and this to the railroad which has advanced until the present magnificent proportions.

At Colorado City.

He then spoke of the settlement of Colorado City, the trials and pleasures of the pioneer life there, the development of government and the social features of this crude existence. He referred numerous incidents which appealed to those who lived there in the early days.

Mr. Howbert had an object in his address which he impressed on those present. His object was to urge the early settlers of the county to write down the days as they remembered them so that these may be collected and compiled by the El Paso County Historical society. Mr. Howbert is always interested in preserving the history of the country from the early days and his main thought yesterday was to impress this idea upon the others there assembled.

An Earnest Talker.

Judge J. A. McHarris, one of the oldest lawyers of the county, who came here in '71, then addressed the throng of long ago. His voice lacked the ring and firmness of days gone by, but the old spirit was there and he showed that he thrilled the first residents of the county with his eloquence and the memory of his former days. Judge McHarris dealt entirely with the Indian troubles of the days when Colorado City residents had to arm themselves and men of the mountains and plains, the days when anyone caught away from the protection of the stockade and fort was in danger of being killed and scalped by the redskins.

Recitations a Feature.

Mrs. E. J. Eaton gave a recitation which pleased the minds of those present greatly as it brought back the days and memories of the campmeetings and entertainments of the community.

Dr. Strickler read a humorous paper on "The Transmigration of Souls," which was heartily enjoyed and then the assemblage broke up to the tune of "Home Sweet Home."

It was a delightful outing. Between the addresses, the old-timers gathered in groups and visited together as they used to do in the 50's and 70's and many a laugh was called forth by a story that recalled some one of the many bright spots in those trying times.

Other Features.

But this is not the worst. There would be many lunatics with ill-kept bodies, their grieving spirits resistant jargon and passions of wild beasts. Death for such would be a relief, and if there were no death we would think ourselves to blame for not providing one to end the sufferings of these poor wretches.

But if death is desirable for some, why not for all? If you do not see why it is because you do not look deep enough.

But this is a festive day, festive because those of you who have passed so similar dangers and hardships have met together to rejoice with each other that you are yet alive.

Then why introduce on this occasion so sad a subject as death? For two reasons—first, to convince you that death is not a curse, but an inestimable blessing, compared to endless suffering, compared to the hell that would exist on earth if there were no death; and secondly, if you will please note that a painter puts somber hues into the background of his work—that is that they may bring out the delicate colors of his picture by contrast. And for the same reason that an ugly and gloomy background to a landscape enhances the beauties of that landscape.

Upon this theory my sad introduction to the festivities of this day ought to heighten our enjoyments.

LIST OF PIONEERS

The following list of pioneers and those who were citizens of the county prior to and including 1880 is compiled from the first registry of the old-timers made at the reunion at the Alta Vista hotel a year ago. At that time all those who were here in the 60's were counted pioneers, but the pioneer association at present limits its membership to those who came here in '73 or prior to that year.

As this is nearly 25 years past, those who registered a year ago as having taken up their residence in El Paso county in 1880 are counted among the pioneers in the Gazette list. The list is doubtless incomplete, but it is the most authentic list obtainable.

1859—Anthony Ecti, J. B. Donovan.
1860—William A. Love, S. E. Roberts.
1866—A. Z. Sheldon, M. A. Foster, Price, Irene Barnes Seldomridge, Mrs. H. N. Lamb, E. M. De La Vergne, Lawson Sumner, F. L. Rouse, W. C. Stark, L. C. Dana, James P. Barnes, Miss Gertrude Crissey, Mrs. Anthony Ecti, Dr. Emery Bryant.

1875—W. H. McLeod, Mrs. John Lennox, A. H. Whalie, Nellie Grant Ferrin, Mrs. J. F. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bacon, C. M. Sherman.

1876—Mrs. Margaret Turner True (now of Denver), Mr. and Mrs. W. E. St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kennedy, Mabel Wiley Loud, Matilda McAllister, Mrs. William Lennox, Mary C. Hoagland, Mrs. C. M. Sherman, Dora Foster.

1877—Mrs. M. L. Everett, Mary Pearsall, Mrs. Hildes, D. R. Fairley, Sallie Tarbell, Mrs. J. H. Gardner, James H. Wyman, E. H. Loud, J. H. Gardner, Mrs. Thomas Brigham, O. L. Godfrey.

1878—Judge N. Ramage, F. O'Brien, Mrs. J. W. Kerr, Dr. William L. Ratcliff, Fred C. Fairley, Thomas C. Strickler, Mrs. L. C. Skinner, Frances E. Hill, Elsie Rowell, Anna M. Tweed, Miss M. J. Speers, Marietta I. Warner, Harold G. Hull, Mrs. S. L. C. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Nye, Emma H. Eldredge, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts.

1879—Charles Barnes Ferrin, Thomas J. Fetter.

Gen. William J. Palmer, the founder of the city, Dr. W. A. Bell, John Potter, Irving Howbert and others are not included in the above list, having been prevented from attending the reunion last year. They were all here in the latter 60's or early 70's.

PRINTERS DECIDE TO ANNEX HOME

Institution Will Become a Part of Colorado Springs---Large Section of Knob Hill Will Probably Come Later.

The Union Printers Home will become a part of the city of Colorado Springs.

The trustees of the Home yesterday [illegible] voted in favor of annexing the Home to the city and City Attorney Shafer, who was called into consultation in the premises a day or two ago, is instructed by the board to take the necessary steps to bring the Home into Colorado Springs.

The annexation of the Home means considerable for the city and both as much, if not more, for the Home. It will increase the area and size of the city and will give to the Home all the privileges enjoyed by other parts of the city including water, sewer and fire privileges not heretofore granted the Home and will also give the Home a free mail delivery.

The annexation of the Printers Home to Colorado Springs is a part of the general movement of property holders in that section and it is probable that Knob hill will come in at the same time as the Printers Home.

The trustees of the Home spent yesterday riding over the Bear creek road, and appreciated it very much despite the fact that they encountered a rain shower. [illegible] in executive session and took up a number of matters relative to the Home.

Mr. Hayes' grammar that has hitherto been used, chiefly because there was no other short Spanish grammar to be had, has been found [illegible] and inaccurate, which the collaboration of the two authors of the new grammar has surely avoided. PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGNS

[illegible] Kenyon Swett, speaking from [illegible] of the forty-nine said that the whole expense of Lincoln's first nomination for president, including the cost of headquarters, telegrams, rallies, parades, [illegible] and [illegible] etc., amounted [illegible] Charles Burlis Rockwell Wilson in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. It cost the republican national committee less to elect Lincoln in 1860 than it does to conduct many a state campaign of the present time. The committee, as [illegible] Mr. Swett, spent a sum that would now seem contemptibly low; it got its work done promptly and successfully as any committee that party has had since. In 1868 at the time [illegible] of the history of the nation the sum of $700,000 was all that was needed to secure the re-election of Lincoln.

It is a far cry from 1864 to 1904, and it is well within the bounds to say that it will cost more than $3,000,000 to elect a president this year. This sum will be spent by the national committees of the two great parties, and [illegible] by the several state committees [illegible] use of large sums of money in politics, as has been observed, is a growth of the last forty years. Previous to that time political campaigning was largely a matter of buttons and [illegible] men, but as the latter duties became men, alert, shrewd and fond of system and order, began to take the management of politics into their hands, and a wonderful change in methods and measures was speedily observed. To Samuel J. Tilden more than to any other man is due the credit of perfecting the system of campaign work in vogue. He had a gift for the management of men as a [illegible] amounted to genius. He saw that great issues which arouse the enthusiasm of the masses, though most essential, are not in themselves sufficient to insure success in a campaign, but that much of the work [illegible] there must be done, in secret, and that it was of the first importance that every voter should be brought into direct personal contact with the campaign management. This required a comprehensive system, great volumes of correspondence, and an almost unlimited use of printed matter—in a word, an organization which reached out and [illegible] around every home and fireside in the land, and the operation of which involved the expenditure of vast sums of money.

"Tilden stamped Tilden's methods with the seal of success, and they have taken the place of those formerly employed. In 1876 more than $2,000,000 was collected and spent by the campaign managers of the two great parties. Four years later they had at their disposal more than $3,000,000, and in 1888 the campaign disbursements were half as much again. In 1892 the Harrison-Cleveland campaign cost less than $1,000,000; and in the campaign of 1900 the expenditure of the two national committees were quite $2,000,000. Finally, in 1904 more than $4,000,000 and in 1908 an even larger amount passed through the hands of Chairman Hanna and Chairman Jones and their associates. Nearly, if not all, of the moneys collected are anticipated by the legitimate expenses of the campaign. They cover a wide range, and their volume swells with every succeeding campaign."

MEXICO'S MILLIONS

Due to Spanish Cruelty and Oppressive Slave Law Many Fortunes Were Made.

When the conquest of Mexico was finally accomplished, the conquerors inaugurated the Spanish mining era in [illegible] seeded by the Americans. Driven by Spanish taskmasters, the natives of Mexico were forced to locate mines, and then labor in them. In the mining system of those days the question of "expense" was entirely eliminated, the slaves had to work for nothing; if they would not work, the Spaniards flogged them to death. Under this [illegible] method of [illegible] of the richest mines in the world were located, and [illegible] to work and exploited to their fullest extent. During the period lasting from 1521 to 1700 most of the great Mexican mining camps were located—the camps of Real del Monte, Tasco, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Catorce, San Dimas and others.

During this period some twelve [illegible] a majority discovered a mine in [illegible] district. This is the [illegible] which has [illegible] out [illegible] and which [illegible] has [illegible] in [illegible] and gold, of which the Spanish [illegible] a part [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

OUTLOOK FOR SCHOOL YEAR IS BRIGHTER THAN EVER BEFORE

THE WHITTIER SCHOOL.

Prof. L. B. Gratton, superintendent of the Colorado City schools, yesterday made the following report of the growth and present condition of the new local institution:

The public schools of Colorado City have had a rapid growth within the past four or five years. They are now equipped, containing nine modern graded buildings with twenty-four teachers in charge. These comfortably-fitted rooms are filled with pupils ranging from the primary grade to the high school, with an increase over the enrollment of last year.

The Whittier school, which was opened for the first time last Monday, is one of the most modern and complete buildings in the city. It is the ambition of the board of education to make this school a model one in every respect. The fundamentals are given more attention than other studies. There is a special teacher in music and a good deal of attention has been given to drawing.

The Board of Education takes great pride in the buildings erected within the past three or four years, the Longfellow at a cost of $20,000 and the Whittier and the Midland each at a cost of $25,000.

Teachers are very carefully selected and are selected on merit alone. They are hired from the best from their work. A uniform course of study is followed, so a pupil that is reading is allowed to go without teacher or school government by leaving one is the matter of the teachers in charge. Friction between pupil and teacher has been reduced to a minimum.

The various boards of directors have worked in the public schools of Colorado City with a good deal of success in the beginning of the school year.

CORNERSTONE LAYING WILL BE MADE A BIG SOCIAL EVENT

The consecration of the new Congregational church edifice of Lincoln and Tejon streets, will be held next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. James B. Gregg of Colorado Springs will deliver an address and officiate in laying the stone. Rev. H. Locke of Denver, Rev. H. Sanderson of Denver, city pastors and visiting ministers will be present and take part in the ceremonies.

After the corner stone is placed in position the ceremonies will be continued in the building.

The corner stone will be placed in position by the Masonic order, and the contents of the stone will consist of the usual articles.

The building committee are working hard to have the church completed by the first of October, and the contractors are confident that they will have the building completed by that time.

CONDUCTOR HAYDEN HAS BIG PARTY IN CHARGE

Stephen B. Hayden and party of 21 passengers leave tonight for Fort Scott, Kan. Mr. Hayden is an old Missouri Pacific conductor having been employed by that company for 27 years. The party consists of family and friends who have been enjoying the Pikes Peak scenery for a few days. Mr. Hayden is a Missouri Pacific veteran.

Rev. M. W. Acton, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, will deliver an address in Colorado next Sunday.

THE SHOFAR WILL SOUND

JEWS WILL CLOSE OBSERVANCE OF ROSH HASHUNE TONIGHT. INTERESTING EXERCISES AT [illegible] TODAY.

Tonight's startling will be the close of the ceremonies that have marked the observance of Rosh Hasaune, the first and second days of the month Tishri of the year 5665, by the Jews of the world.

In Colorado Springs, the Jewish New Year has been observed by appropriate exercises, by the closing of many of the stores and [illegible] from the Majestic hall will sound the blasts of the shofar, an ancient instrument, recalling to the mind blasts that were in the ears of the fathers of the race from Mount Sinai when the laws were given. From 8 this morning until [illegible] o'clock this evening, services will be in progress at Majestic hall, and a large attendance is gathered. Starting promptly the beginning of the shofar by the Rev. Hayman of the city and duties applied against all by Cantor Supernow were the main features.

Yesterday from 8 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock the services were held at Majestic hall. Praying and the lessons by Cantor Supernow were the main features. The services began at 9 o'clock and lasted until 1 o'clock.

WOMEN ADOPT GYM COSTUME

FIRST MEETING OF CLASS BEING ORGANIZED AT Y. W. C. A. WAS HELD YESTERDAY AND MUCH INTEREST WAS SHOWN.

The first meeting of the women's gymnasium class was held at the Y. W. C. A. building yesterday morning. Registrations were completed and short talks were made to the ladies by Miss Gertrude Gardner of the Y. W. C. A., who outlined the work of the class.

Classes will meet on Wednesdays from 9 to 11 a. m. and Saturdays from 9 to 10 a. m. The class uniforms were adopted yesterday and will consist of blouse and divided skirt of navy blue with white trimmings.

Observations of how the costumes will appear when worn may be had at the Y. W. C. A. building, and all questions relating to the work will be gladly answered by those in charge.

JEWELER REYNOLDS IS DISPLAYING UNIQUE CLOCK

One of the most unique clocks in Colorado Springs has been placed in the window of C. W. Reynolds' jewelry store, 120 Colorado avenue, and is causing a great deal of comment. The hours are shown in large bold figures upon revolving discs. The clock is wound and set in the ordinary manner, the special advantage being in the fact that the time of any locality in the world can be shown by merely turning a knob. The clock is guaranteed for a term of years and will be covered with glass.

ARMSTRONG ADDS TO HIS GROCERY BUSINESS

Thomas D. Armstrong has bought the entire stock of groceries and fixtures belonging to the Robertson Grocery company at 28 Colorado avenue, and has put in the line of staple and fancy groceries in connection with the Colorado City grocery company.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE EAST SIDE

TELEPHONE SERVICE AND ELECTRIC LIGHTS NOW BEING INSTALLED IN SECTION KNOWN AS DAY'S ADDITION.

The part of the east side known as Day's addition, has recently been greatly improved by the installation of electric lights and telephones. The electric lights were put in last week, but the electric lights were not turned on until last night. This includes that section of the city north of Boulder street and east of Institute.

With the proximity to the Institute of Arts and the two new fine residences this district is now one of the most desirable residence sections of the city. Efforts to secure the lights and telephones have been on foot for six months, and W. L. Winkler and E. C. Arnold of the Colorado Realty were instrumental in getting the desired improvements.

TALENTED ARTIST HOME FROM ABROAD

MISS HERRMANN REACHED NEW YORK YESTERDAY AND WILL COME IMMEDIATELY TO HER HOME IN THIS CITY.

Miss Lois Herrmann, the gifted young daughter of Mrs. H. H. Brian, arrived yesterday on the steamship Etruria of the Cunard line.

Miss Brian met Miss Herrmann upon her arrival. They will stop in Chicago for a day or two, where she will play with a view to an engagement and then proceed to their home in this city.

Miss Herrmann has been absent for about a year and during that time she has been engaged for recitals and concerts in London, Ireland, across the celebrated Herr Joachim. After a year of study in Berlin, Miss Herrmann will locate in this city for two years or more probably.

CRITICAL TIME FOR THE MILLIONAIRES IS AT HAND

Showing This Week Will Decide Their Chances for the Pennant---New Rocky Mountain League Next Season.

With the opening of games beginning this week [illegible] a great extent the final position in which the Millionaires will finish the season of 1904. The race to date has been a pretty one between Denver and Colorado Springs and now both are playing away from home with Denver [illegible] slight advantage.

A month ago the Millionaires looked to be sure winners now it is a question where they will finish. The time for making up [illegible] games and shorter and [illegible] games will count. To have a chance to win the pennant, the Millionaires must do much better than break even on this, the last trip. The showing against Omaha and St. Joe will tell the tale. Owner Burns believes that his team will land the banner and has the following to say:

"I am not in the least bit worried as to where the pennant will go. I feel confident we will win, and am ready to bet my money we do. Denver was rather lucky on the last trip and can't always play on the last trip and can't always go along that way. Omaha is now out of the running, [illegible] miles in front. Peabody is convenient, although they looked formidable for a time.

Rourke and his crew will have much to do, however, in deciding where the pennant is to go. If they beat Denver one win. If they beat us then Denver will win. Of course they will play at their home [illegible] games will decide the other. It will just be a matter of [illegible] which team catches them in the best shape.

A story comes from Salt Lake City to the effect that President W. H. Sinton of the Western League is planning the organization of a Rocky Mountain league for next year which will include Salt Lake, Butte, Ogden, Denver and four other inter-mountain towns. If Denver is put into this league it is probable that Colorado Springs, Pueblo and possibly a fourth team will also be included in the circuit. It is said that the new [illegible] circuit on the disruption of the Pacific National league at the conclusion of its season as a result of the unprofitable playing this year. Richard Hobb, a sporting writer of St. Joe, has been commissioned by President Sinton to investigate the [illegible] of the scheme.

BIG POLO TOURNEY OPENS AT COUNTRY CLUB TOMORROW

Colorado Springs lovers of polo will be given an excellent chance of witnessing this sport in its best form for the greater part of the week, beginning tomorrow.

While the tournament will be a social one and not for any championship honors, still the games will be just as hard fought as the matches which should last week in Glenwood Springs. All of the games which ended in that tournament will be in operation [illegible] this week, the local players entering a first and second team.

The Colorado Springs [illegible] will be made up of Messrs. Burns, Rogers, Dimmick and Gerald H. Wells. Palmer Wells and T. D. Matthews, on the first team, and J. P. Chilcott, Walter Scott, Mark Hopkins and J. T. Stewart on the second team. Reserve players for the Springs are Captain Carpenter, Joe Harrison, Frank Jarvis and Mr. McCarthy. Glenwood will be represented by Messrs. Harvey Lyle, W. Devereux, H. Devereux and Bryant Turner and Fort Robinson by Chas. Foster, Lieut. Kaiser, Lieut. Miller and Capt. White-head. Denver will also send a team.

All of the games will be free to the public and the grandstand at the Country Club, overlooking the polo field, where the games will be played tomorrow, will be open to the public. There will probably be two games played tomorrow. Wednesday there will be three and in addition special features consisting of [illegible] races will be run each afternoon. On Tuesday next the visiting teams will be entertained at the Country Club at a ball given in their honor by the Colorado Springs team.

HOLD-UP AT EARLY HOUR

J. F. LEWIS WAS RELIEVED OF HIS PAY BY TWO YOUNG MEN ON COLORADO AVENUE THIS MORNING.

A hold-up occurred just west of Manitou creek on Colorado avenue early this morning, [illegible] the perpetrators [illegible].

Lewis was walking west to this city from Manitou city when he was accosted. They asked him the tobacco, and while one of them took it the other drew a revolver and told Lewis to throw up his hands, which he promptly did. The pair took the pocketbook and made their escape.

The police were notified and made a search this morning but without result. They have good descriptions of the young men.

Margaret Anglin comes to the Broadway this week in a play entitled "The Eternal Feminine."

Another recruit to vaudeville is announced in the Singer Midgets Company.

A concert tour of the chief cities of South Africa will be undertaken by Miss Lillian Blauvelt, the American soprano, next year.

Champion Pugilist Jeffries may be on a stage tour in "Davy Crockett," assuming the title part. He might make a hit by changing Davy's famous lines to read: "Be sure of your right; then go ahead."

De Wolf Hopper is to have a comic opera based on Falstaff as a character, with music by Victor Herbert.

Richard Mansfield is likely to continue in "Ivan the Terrible."

"Talked About" is a comedy that will serve Mrs. Langtry as an excuse for touring America again.

"Winsome Winnie" and Paula Edwardes combine for another starring tour November 10.

Burton Holmes, the lecturer, has just completed an extended trip through Ireland. Ireland will be one of his series of five travelogues to be given in the United States this season.

"The West Point Cadet" the new musical play Della Fox may appear in.

"Mrs. Black is Back" is the apt name of the piece in which May Irwin will be seen back on the stage.

As concerns Lillian Russell's present season's intentions, she is so far undecided to silence.

Robert Drouet has signed a contract by which Margaret Anglin's leading man this season. Mr. Drouet's initial work will begin with the role of Lysander in the new play from the German by Rupert Marsh, "The Eternal Feminine."

It seems W. T. Stead, the journalist, who is London just now is agitating the question of reforming the stage, has never seen a play in his life, and he is something over half a century old.

whole affair, the farcical and mysterious tragedy of Mayerling, the death of the crown prince Rudolph, of which secretly 30 persons, including the emperor, the pope, the premier, Louise and the witnesses, among whom was Philippe, know the truth.

Philippe broke his oath of secrecy and boasted of his part to his wife who again underscored to get a divorce and failed even to secure permission to live in Belgium. Then the woman, from a virtual nun, became one of the gayest members of Vienna's gayest set. She seemed to be trying to force her husband to divorce her, but he only retired from court the most ardent of her admirers, until in 1897 there came the affair with Kaglevitch, the prince's most intimate friend.

Her friends claimed that she was driven to this action by the belief that his displeasure would make such a scandal that her husband would be forced to divorce her. It is added that his first thought was to cut off her allowances, allowing from her own fortune—and to employ shady money-lenders to squeeze her.

Fought a Duel.

In February, 1896, Lover and husband fought a duel, in consequence of which Lover was sentenced by court-martial to military imprisonment for five years for forcing the count of the Austrian imperial Crown Princess Stephanie. He was released last year and immediately set to work to free Princess Louise, who had in the meantime been suffering in a convent. In this he succeeded, as mentioned in success last Tuesday morning.

KAISER AS BALLET COACH

German Emperor Assumes Personal Charge of Dancers at Rehearsal of Play in Berlin.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—Emperor William supervised the rehearsal of the "Ballet-house" here. The feature of the ballet is a Slavonic dance, which presents exceptional difficulties.

The emperor watched the attempts of the ballet corps to master the steps and modified the ballet skirt himself. He showed them what, according to him, should be made and how to walk them, and displayed remarkable agility and a perfect knowledge of the stage routine.

His majesty also instructed the orchestra how to play the accompaniments for the dance, taking the conductor's baton and assuming the direction of the forty musicians.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT IN RHYME

Lyons, France, Sept. 10.—The civil courts at Bourgoin had recently to examine the case of a marriage contract which had been written by a peasant in verse.

As all the forms of law had been observed, the court held that the contract was valid.

CHAPP, YALE ATHLETE, ILL

Lucerne, Switzerland, Sept. 10.—Edward Chapp, class of 1904, and captain of the Yale track team, is seriously ill of typhoid fever here.

GIRL VICTIM OF AN ADVENTURER

FALLS IN LOVE WITH TOURIST STRANGER, WEDS HIM, IS DESERTED AND ROBBED—BRAIN FEVER FOLLOWS.

Vienna, Sept. 10.—Terrible have been the consequences of an accidental acquaintance formed in the Rhineland only a few weeks ago by a diamond dealer of Amsterdam, Mr. Robinsen, 60 years of age, named Robinsen, and his only child, a girl of 19.

While journeying from Cologne to Coblentz in a Rhine steamer, they met two Poles, Count Wisslawski and Baron Lodzinski, the latter a handsome young man of 25, who, after a few days' acquaintance, proposed to the father for his daughter's hand. The proposal was accepted, and the father left with his daughter for Amsterdam, where they arrived the next morning.

Separated from her lover, however, Miss Robinsen showed symptoms of melancholia and all attempts on the part of her father to cheer her up proving futile, he had resolved on a cruise in the Mediterranean, when they were again joined by the Wisslawskis, who had succeeded in tracing them to Amsterdam.

The scene that ensued as Miss Robinsen threw herself into her lover's arms resulted in the father giving an unwilling consent to the union.

A week later bride and bridegroom left Amsterdam to spend the honeymoon, and Mr. Robinsen returned to Vienna.

The diamond merchant had hardly reconciled himself to his daughter's departure, however, when he received an extremely worded telegram. Taking the first train, he arrived at Sedlmarling only to find his worst fears realized. The bride of a week was living in a condition of brain fever having been heartlessly deserted by the adventurer she took for her husband, while every article of value and possessed had gone with him.

The unfortunate girl is at present in charge of a gendarme in the Tyrol, while her father is actively endeavoring to trace the villain who has wrecked his daughter's life.

ORIENTAL IN LONDON

Maharajah of Mysore, India, Rules Over Territory About Size of Scotland.

London, Sept. 10.—The Maharajah of Mysore has arrived in England on a brief visit.

The Maharajah is the premier of the ruling princes of India of the first rank, and in the three years that have elapsed since his installation as ruler by Lord Curzon he has done much to justify the predictions of those who declared in his youth that he would make a wise ruler. Mysore is a very interesting state with a history closely interwoven with England. In India during the [illegible] and placed on the throne and its prince ranks of a par with the Nizam and the Gaikwar as the foremost of English feudatories.

He succeeds his father, to whom England had restored Mysore in 1881, on that prince's sudden and much-lamented death in December, 1894, for in those thirteen years the late Maharajah had won the title of the model prince of India. A regency of seven years intervened, and now Krishnaraja is following closely in his father's footsteps. Having first gained a reputation for steadily pursuing the even tenor of his way, attending to the many responsibilities of administration, he has begun to show progressive ideas.

It is given to records that it was during his visit to Europe in 1892 that he was first struck with the necessity of education for the people, and on his return to Mysore he at once established a number of schools, which have since been largely increased in number.

It was with that object that he opened an exhibition in February last, one of the most remarkable proofs of the awakening of India that has recently been afforded, and immediately on his return from the ceremony he proceeded to establish and endow a technical school for his own subjects at Bangalore.

Mysore is very advanced toward a satisfactory conclusion in female education, especially difficult in India where [illegible] may not be uninteresting to point out that Mysore is very nearly the size of Scotland, and that it possesses about [illegible] progress under its own native administration affords the strongest argument in favor of the future of India.

CURZON'S AMBITION.

London, Sept. 10.—The Curzon children will not return to India with their parents. They will remain at Wesmacotte, but will frequently visit their grandfather at Kedleston.

Lord Curzon had stipulated that he shall only remain in India two years longer. At the end of that period, he assumes, his party will resume office after a brief Liberal administration following a general election.

Then Curzon hopes to be given cabinet rank. He even aspires to the premiership.

AMERICAN GIVES PRIZE WALTZERS.

Dinard, France, Sept. 10.—At the Marchioness de Rigy's charity fete this week, the challenge cup for grand round waltzing contest was won by Miss Gladwalader Pourtales, an American. Second came Miss Marchand Potter, also an American, and third, Miss Des Franks, whose mother is an American.

7 TONS BAGGAGE FOR "DUDE KING"

RUSSIA DECLINES TO TRANSPORT TO THE FRONT THE PERSONAL BELONGINGS OF KAISER'S DISGRACED COUSIN.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The court of Berlin is agitated and mystified by Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, who married the empress' sister and so is not only Emperor William's cousin, but his brother-in-law.

The ship of state ordered the prince to attach himself to General Kuropatkin's headquarters in Manchuria. Accordingly it was [illegible] that this order requires [illegible] the emperor's wishes in some [illegible] but, in which the particulars are not known.

It is given out now that the prince is ill and that his departure to Manchuria is postponed indefinitely.

A COMING WEDDING

Martin-Phipps Wedding Party Have Recreation—Men Wear Scotch Plaid Kilts.

London, Sept. 10.—The betrothal of [illegible] to the [illegible] of every country home party. A rich American and a poor English girl say they would be more fitting or vice versa, but a rich American "beats them hollow," as they rather vulgarly express themselves.

Already the scheme of bridal trousseau is afoot, a carnival even that of the young Duchess of Roxburghe, Ethel [illegible] whose dresses have been sent to Paris and an expert from Worth's is expected at Beaufort castle soon.

All the residents in Scotland in their [illegible] upon a lively gathering at this castle, where, though the wedding will not be solemnized for many [illegible] months, a house party is already rehearsing the ceremony.

The [illegible] that Lady and [illegible] Phipps and her daughter by the [illegible] of the fragrance of the [illegible] great dances at the castle when the fiance of Lord Lovatt was married last year.

The whole point of these narratives centered in the fact that Highland [illegible] were worn by the men of the party. The idea at once took root, and Mrs. Phipps seemed determined to [illegible] the guests in the same [illegible] [illegible] of the night [illegible] [illegible] kilts have been procured [illegible] in these garments, the young men of the party go through their [illegible] ordinary duties, turning the crooks [illegible] marriage in the [illegible] castle.

The elder members of the party were at first inclined to see the joke, but since then it has palled, though it will be long before the joke is entirely forgotten by the [illegible].

Mrs. William Post was there as a guest for about a fortnight. She has now returned to town, but probably will rejoin the party later.

"Fred" Martin, the bridegroom's uncle, will act as groomsman. He is [illegible] looking, not much older than his nephew and a general favorite with all who know him.

CHOATE GOES FISHING

American Ambassador and His Daughter Are in Hertfordshire,—Taking Lessons in Trout'g.

London, Sept. 10.—United States Ambassador Choate's chief reasons for selecting Lincoln's inn fields as the scene of his vacation were the quietness and [illegible] did opportunities it affords in the way of sport of various kinds.

Fishing has taken the fancy. As [illegible] frequently since all day waiting for a bank. Miss Choate, following the footsteps of her father, and side by side they stand or recline, reading [illegible].

The ambassador is not doing things by halves. He means to become an expert angler. Therefore, a "professional" [illegible] is not expected back the embassy is in charge of second Secretary Carter.

AN UNHAPPY DUCHESS

London, Sept. 10.—The Duchess of [illegible] arrived at Harrogate Wednesday for a flying visit to her intimate friend, Mrs. Chapman, and also to see her sons, who is staying there. The [illegible] little duchess [illegible] often termed by friends, has been [illegible] of late and has ever to [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] is going to [illegible] visit to her [illegible] [illegible] her mother [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The [illegible] department of the Woman's club will meet at Mrs. A. André, 224 East Dale street, Thursday, Sept. 15 with the chairman, Mrs. Robert Kerr, 330 East Monument street.

The North End W. C. T. U. was entertained Yesterday afternoon by Mrs. [illegible] with a very large attendance and general interest as it was the last of the calendar year.

The reports showed that more had been done than ever before. It was decided to have a years book as other years and Mrs. Belmont Allen and Mrs. A. B. Dennett were appointed a committee to arrange the same.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. L. F. Cropsey; vice president, Mrs. A. B. Dennett; secretary, Mrs. A. L. Mowry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Hardaker; treasurer, Mrs. A. S. Blake.

Superintendents of departments were elected as follows:

Evangelistic, Mrs. Cronin; superintendent of T. & Mrs. A. S. Blake; superintendent of L. T. L., Mrs. E. L. Whitney; Bethel and jail work, Mrs. A. L. Mercereau; mining camps, Mrs. F. M. Browning; sociological, Mrs. O. M. Aplin; flower mission, Mrs. Owen; ladies' christian citizenship, Mrs. E. F. Nash; social purity, Dr. Josephine [illegible]; press work, Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Mary J. Ely; literature, Mrs. F. M. Merriam; kindergarten, Mrs. Crowell; Sabbath observance, Mrs. Merry Hollement; peace and arbitration, Mrs. George Lewis; temperance and legislation, Mrs. Carrie Gledhill; non-alcoholic medication, Mrs. N. Kromer; health and heredity, Mrs. Hannah; cottage home, Mrs. George M. Young; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Richard Aitken; social, Mrs. Cobb; members work, Mrs. A. F. Newton; press, Mrs. A. B. Connell.

Mr. Frank S. Moore favored those present with some fine piano music. Miss Adella Drenkel recited and Mrs. Claude Smith sang two beautiful solos. [illegible] served refreshments.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Aitken, when delegates will be elected to the state convention.

One of the most enjoyable events of the past week was the meeting of the Russell W. C. T. U. last Friday afternoon. In response to the invitation which had been so kindly extended by the East Side and Frances Willard unions, there was a good representation from each.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Cooper, Miss Ethel Sechrist was in charge of the most excellent program.

Rev. Mr. Kiser, one of the honorary members, led the devotionals, after which Miss Pierce gave one of her sweetest vocal solos, followed by a reading by Miss Miller, of Iowa. Mrs. and Miss Taylor sang an impressive duet, "Down In Your Licensed Saloon." Mrs. Hamilton offered suggestions for more effective work along temperance lines, Rev. Mr. Kiser gave a beautiful vocal solo, [illegible] accompanied. Miss Leavitt then spoke on "Scientific Temperance." Words of encouragement were given by Mrs. Jencks, Miss Edith Sechrist and others. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Taylor and Miss Pierce and a prayer by Mrs. Barlow closed the program. A social hour followed.

Miss Mansfield.

Mrs. T. E. Price, treasurer of the Woman's club, will be present at all the general and departmental meetings of the club, prepared to receipt for the yearly club dues and issue membership cards.

A department meeting of the Frances Willard W. C. T. U. was held last Thursday afternoon at Willard home and Mrs. Draper offered prayer.

After the business session, reports of some of the superintendents were read, some readings by Mrs. Balcom, [illegible] mission, Miss Kimpler, jail and prison, Mrs. Draper, peace and arbitration, Mrs. Hollingsworth, mothers work, Mrs. Stanton, narcotic observance, Mrs. Gibson, non-alcoholic, Mrs. Allen, press work, Mrs. Wethers, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gilbert [illegible] Mrs. Stanton [illegible] on several lines of work during the past year. Among other reports, she said that several thousand pages of literature had been distributed. All the reports which were submitted showed the splendid result of a year's conscientious work.

Plans for attending the district convention September 13 and 14 were discussed and the urgent invitation of the Roswell W. C. T. U. to attend the christening accepted.

The regular meeting of the Cemetery Aid association was held last Tuesday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. James W. Atkinson, 6610 North Tejon street. The members decided to [illegible] luncheon sometime in November in a down town location, for replenishing the treasury of the association.

The [illegible] of section 2 of the First Methodist church will give a chicken pie supper next Thursday evening from 5 until 8 o'clock at the church, for the benefit of the Deaconess hospital.

Mrs. J. M. Curtis, the efficient chairman of the section and the able corps of helpers solicit the generous co-operation of everybody that the supper may be a great financial and social success.

The Ninth district of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which embraces the counties of El Paso, Teller, Douglas and Elbert, will hold its annual convention at Fountain on September 13 and 14 in the Baptist church.

Quite a delegation of the "White Ribboners" will go by the noon train Tuesday, leaving on the D. & R. G. road at 12:05. The convention opens at 2 p. m. and continues all the following day. Tuesday evening Miss Ida Clother of Manitou and the Rev. D. D. McKitchen of Fountain will address the audience and Wednesday will be a day of conference in regard to the various lines of work carried forward by the unions. Mrs. Hollingsworth, the president, delivers an address in the afternoon, as [illegible] also gives a paper on "Good Health," and Mrs. Ella B. Gilchrist on Sunshine and on "The Drink Habit,—a social problem."

SHIPLOADS OF PAUPERS.

ON ONE day last week a shipload of 670 immigrants was landed at the port of Philadelphia. This was the first company to be brought to that port under the head tax law, of which [illegible] of the week.

The entire shipload might have readily been designated as paupers, but only 65 of them could be detained under the existing immigration laws. This, of course, means that [illegible] have enough money to buy a loaf of bread.

Many of them got through by the influence of relatives who declared that these families would not become a public charge. Having landed in this country and safely passed the immigration officials, the interest of relatives is bound to quickly cease, and beyond question within five years of the [illegible] be [illegible] to the taxpayers.

The present steerage war has demonstrated beyond question the weakness and inefficiency of the immigration laws. Many times the inspectors would be glad to send these destitute persons back if they could but do it. Therefore, one of the most important questions with which congress will have to deal in the immediate future is with reference to alien immigration. The necessity for more stringent statutes for the protection of American citizens and American institutions is becoming more apparent every hour.

NOW LET MAINE BE HEARD FROM.

THE state election in the Pine Tree State in Maine will be even more interesting as a political barometer than the Vermont balloting of the week previous. The nation seems to be prevalent that the voters of Maine are [illegible] than the Democrats that those of Vermont.

It is not denied that a large amount of Democratic money has gone into Maine and many spellbinders, including the offensive and flatulent Bourke Cockran have been consecrating to scourge the state of Maine farmers from Roosevelt as "cheap" and that Republicanism is a menace to the country.

Governor Hill declares that the ticket will be elected by a larger majority than it was two years ago despite all [illegible] to the contrary notwithstanding.

To prove, however, that the Democracy has not much of a chance to gain votes it will be observed that in no month for the last few years has there steadily decreased the interest of Democrats. POLITICAL WELLMAN TO THE DENVER NEWS.

Washington, Sept. 4, 1904.—To the editor of the Denver News: Of any criticism of my work which you or any other editor may offer, I make no complaint. You and I enjoy precisely the same right to entertain and express our opinions. But I submit to you that you are altogether unfair when you say—

"Dr. Walter Wellman's [illegible] letters on the [illegible] campaign in the [illegible] have been written by arrangement between the author and the managers of the national Republican campaign."

I know, and I think you know, that my letters were written without the slightest care what their political effect might be. You are within your right when you question the [illegible] of my observations or the soundness of my conclusions. But do you not [illegible] rather cheap to question a man's motives because his opinions chance not to agree with yours?

He promptly received an answer: "A mere disturbance is not music."—Omaha Bee.

ANOTHER SHUTE BOOK.

"Sequil to The Real Diary of a Real Boy," by Henry A. Shute, published by the Everett Page, Boston. Price, fifty cents.

The reader who laughed over the very human pranks of the real boy in his diary, will relish a continuation of the same pranks told in the same badly-spelled, irresistible style. It is a generally accepted fact that children are twice as quaint and original in their mode of expression as any would-be fancy-maker who has [illegible] to imagine himself one of them. The "Sequil" got up in a green apple colored cover (which is decidedly appropriate) contains many laughable experiences of a whole-souled boy with parents surrounding the greater part of his make-up. Here is an experience he had one summer day:

June 3. Julie and Sal. I am in bed I ain't sick only I invent got any close to wear, so he after father had talked the old cow I thought I wood try it. so I got a tin flipper and went out and set down and began to squeeze and she kicked me into the hay floor and she [illegible] me through the hay floor and [illegible] the pasture pile, when I got up I was all covered and Aunt [illegible] made Mr. Chamberlain so much more [illegible]

I have not so much my best close to morrow and I cant go out of the yard. I wish that old cow was dead, father said it served me just right.

Like most boys he wasn't fearful a pillar of the church on Sunday school. Visiting and drinking fast horses were his ideas of bliss. He was a very tender hearted youngster with all his mischief. He was sticky, enough not to cry when his father thrashed him, but "belled like a baby" when his mother would sit by his bed of night talking to him. Men who start out in life like that are men we love as friends and hate as enemies, and who also make life worth living for themselves and others.

Club Women to Meet at Fort Collins

THE [illegible] call for the [illegible] annual [illegible] Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs states that the meeting will be held at Fort Collins, October 5 and 6, 1904. Each club in the state federation is entitled to two delegates and one alternate, and each club is entitled to the services of a committee of [illegible] standing committees in the convention, making at least one possible voting strength of the convention two hundred and seventy.

The [illegible] board will [illegible] and the board of directors at 2:30 p. m. Monday, October 3, 1904. The transportation committee has succeeded in securing the same favorable rate of one fare for the round trip, rebating beginning September 30, west of Lead[illegible], and October 1, from all other points in the state. These rates are not limited to delegates and alternates, but all visitors to the federation meeting are privileged to avail themselves of the reduction. It is hoped that a large proportion of the five thousand club women of the state may be induced to attend during these days.

MRS. MARY C. C. BRADFORD,
President Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs.

A Good Program.

A rich feast has been prepared by the program committee, distinguished visitors are to be present and the Fort Collins clubs are proving by many preparations for the comfort and enjoyment of the federation women that splendid [illegible] are in the fair city of northern Colorado.

Advance sheets of the program show that much time and thought have been expended upon it and the result is one of the very finest ever prepared for such an occasion. The personnel of the program committee is: Chairman, Mrs. Harry E. Churchill; first vice-president of the federation, Mrs. Ray C. Watson; secretary, Mrs. Stanley M. Cooper; Miss Ellis Meredith, Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, Denver; Mrs. Jas. H. Baker, Boulder; Mrs. F. T. Vincent, Greeley; Mrs. Franklin E. Coiffures.

If the hair is worn high on the head, they should invariably (unless it is the extreme end) meet the nape of the neck. Hair-pins should never be seen in front, and one should be careful that the hair is not dressed too high, as this is a most unbecoming fashion. Fringes are worn more than ever, and are very pretty when they are not too thick. Curls are also worn, but they must be carefully arranged, as they are very apt to look untidy. With the low dress coiffure is still more plain and simple than with the high dress. The hair is dressed low on the nape of the neck, and the fringe is left as much as possible in its natural state. Hair-pins are not worn in front, and the hair is not dressed too high. Curls are worn on the nape of the neck, and the fringe is left as much as possible in its natural state. Lace Coats.

I was watching two very smartly dressed women trying on lace coats in one of the shops the other day. In e[ach] [case] every customer as well as every clerk was looking at them. In the end they purchased two of the daintiest wraps it has been my good fortune to see. One was a three-quarter coat of fine white lace, cut with a capelike cape and trimmed with large medallions of finer wrought lace, which were delicately embroidered in sprays of flowers. One large medallion was directly in the back, others came on the fronts and at the lower part of the wide flowing sleeves there were smaller reproductions of the medallions. The center part of these medallions was of the finest plain lace mesh and around the oval outer edge was wrought a border of lace, which corresponded with the more open mesh of the body of the coat. There was not a vestige of lining in the garment, and one wondered what its practical use might be. In reality there isn't any, but the woman who was trying it on remarked that she already saw a hundred uses to which she would put the coat, and among them it was to figure as a filmy wrap to throw over a summer frock in the evening as a carriage coat and as a dressy little lounging coat for special occasions in the house. For garden party wear such a coat would prove ideal, and probably the purchaser had such an affair in mind when she bought it. The price was $35, quite reasonable considering the amount of extra work in embroidering fabric that was already [lace] of the most delicate materials by hand.

The shops are supplied with very many lace coats [that] are supplied with very deep-pointed "V" effects in trimmings or real yokes. It isn't necessary to have it a bona-fide yoke, for the appearance is all that is needed, but coats as well as gowns must be ornamented with trimming that falls low over the shoulders and comes to a very low point almost at the waist line. In some the effect is simple enough to get, but when it comes to ornamenting coats the matter is far more difficult. Above all, lace coats should be kept as light, dainty and airy-looking as it is possible to get them, and when trimming is used this should be of the most appropriate kind.

While the majority of coats, especially if they come below the belt, fall quite free of the waist, many are all finished with belts that are one of their most prominent features—in fact, the belt of a gown stamps it as a success or failure in regard to its smartness.

In shape belts are very wide in front—so wide, indeed, that they come very near being bodices. Sometimes they are plain, but more often they are draped, and from the knot they taper away gently at the sides, and continue on getting smaller at the back until the width is nothing at all to speak of.

Buckles are also most important features of every belt, or if a belt doesn't finish with a buckle, then it has clasps or ornaments of some kind. In any event the ornament or series of them forms the front of the belt, and when more than one is used they are fastened in clusters in front.

To Bring Good Luck.

So much so that the chief of the ...ers—to whom was delegated the duty of turning over the securities to Ivy L. Lee—had learned every ... necessary to meet these ...s and important personages. Finally the day came, and at precisely a quarter of 11 I let him into one of the numerous private offices which are a part of Mr. Rogers' suite. He had under his arm a bundle of papers representing the stocks which he was to exchange for the purchase money, amounting to $1,... 000,000, and, I think, fully expected that in their examination, the receiving for so large an amount of money, and in the ... which he, of course, thought must be a necessary part of the delivery, the greater part of the day would be taken up. It took me some six or seven minutes to get him located, and it was close on to five minutes of 12 when Mr. Rogers stepped into the room. I was well into the introduction when out came Mr. Rogers' watch, and with what must have appeared to the visitor as astonished consternation.

"I do hope you will excuse me," he exclaimed in the middle of a handshake, "but I have an appointment at 12 o'clock sharp, and I must be going at once."

His place was taken 15 seconds after by Mr. Rogers' secretary, who in less than five minutes had exchanged a check of $1,000,000 made out to him for a bundle of stocks and in another ... the elevator.

...ers Lose a Million.

The great Anaconda mine and affiliated properties, previous to the creation of the Amalgamated, were owned ... and their operations were absolutely vested in Marcus Daly, and he alone knew where the lean veins ended and the fat ones began. For many years he had kept a close guard over the very ... get ones, never letting his right eye know what the left one saw, when he was examining them. For deep down in his mind Marcus Daly cherished a great dream of immense riches, and it was to be realized in a simple enough way. He would get together the millions to buy out his partners on the basis of a valuation of the "ore in sight," then in supreme ownership himself reap unfold profits of the milling of the prodigious veins he had been so careful to leave unworked. The immense natural endowments of the Anaconda rendered this easy enough, for even the lean veins "in sight" contained a vast store of copper and gold and silver.

Just about the time the world awaited the first section of "Capers" which I had advertised should consist of the rich Butte and Montana and Montana and Butte and Boston properties, it "happened" that Mr. Rogers "met" Marcus Daly. The result of the conjunction of the two personalities—the whole-souled trusting miner and the fascinating and persuasive master of Standard Oil—was decisive. The latter confided his dreams and his aspirations to the miner, who at once magnificently undertook to realize them. Mr. Rogers would buy the properties of Daly Heggin and Tevis at "in sight" prices, and Daly would be his partner, but the partnership must remain secret until the purchase was consummated.

The ... company at the time consisted of 1,000,000 shares, and the purchase of 4 new shares over the majority at the "in sight" lean vein valuation of $34,000,... 000 would carry the turn-over of the management and the control. It took but a brief time to get together the other properties which were finally included in the first section of Amalgamated. They consisted of the Colorado, Washoe, and Parrot Mining companies and timber, coal and other lands and mercantile and like properties situated in the state of Montana, for which Mr. Rogers paid in round figures $10,000,000—a total of $39,000,000 for what within a few days after purchase was capitalized at $75,000,000 in the Amalgamated company.

No one but Henry H. Rogers, William Rockefeller, myself, and one lawyer knew the actual figures of the cost, although a number of the members of the different groups, including Marcus Daly, the silent partner, were sure they were in the secret.

"$36,000,000 Profit."

As soon as the properties were secured, they were capitalized for $75,... company and were immediately offered for sale to the public. It will here be seen that the profit on this deal alone was $36,000,000, probably the largest actual profit ever made by one body ... in a single corporation deal; yet, as I merely does "Standard Oil" discriminate in dispensing its generosity. But in this case those who received the Amalgamated profit refused to deduct from it $7,000,000 of expenses connected with the formation of the company, thereby compelling it to start $7,000,000 in debt. This was considerate Marcus Daly all forgave, and to the day of his death he repeatedly referred to the act as the personification of corporation ...

In the organization of the Amalgamated corporation certain individuals and institutions, for various considerations, were entitled to some share in the profits of the deal. First there was Marcus Daly, who knew what the major portion of the property had cost and ... as he knew them. The Amalgamated company was organized in and floated on the public from the City bank, and so James Stillman, its head, and is also one of the inner circle of Standard Oil chiefs, should profit ... Then there was ... Flower, president of the Central Trust company of New York, who ... on the board of directors. On the board of directors, too was ex-Governor Flower of the banking and brokerage house of Flower & Co., who had acted as fiscal agent for the ... in its formation. Nor must I forget, ... Byrne, who has been suspected to have in all their copper business of actual cost to be incorporated in the United States Selling company, a part of the Amalgamated scheme, but not ... was in on the cellar floor.

This is ... really occurred before Mr. Rogers and Marcus Daly got together. Mr. Rogers and Marcus Daly, ... seller to anyone at all in this built a superbly designed water and fire proof structure (particularly light proof), consisting of five floors, each one being the exact duplicate of the ... upon which they and ... was thrown in on the lean veins ... united just a few million dollars above their own. James Stillman and Leonard Lowischi, of Lewisohn Bros., were ... their purchase to be ... anced later by Mr. Rogers, in all profits above actual cost and such actual cost was called $30,000,000 and was arrived at by adding the $21,000,000 of secret profits to the actual $39,000,000 cost. Then J. P. Morgan & Co., Frederick Gaoll, Governor Flower and one or two of the dearest friends or closest associates were let in on the ... were ... arranged to be arranged by Mr. Rogers, in all profits above actual cost, and such actual cost was called $30,000,... 000 and was arrived at by adding the $21,000,000 of secret profits to the actual $39,000,000 cost. Then the elected ones from the eight different groups of "Standard Oil" were all allowed to move in on the fifth, or underwriters' floor, which was affirmed to be $10,... 000,000 cost; and then, as a solid phalanx, all the different floor-dwellers marched upon the poor public at $1... ... in the front ranks of which were all those of the eight groups of the Standard Oil army that had not already been admitted to any of the lower floors.

The "Double Cross."

Right here the crime of Amalgamated was born, not so much the legal crime, but the moral crime. My ... with it, the agreement under which I consented to continue in the transaction and, which secured completely to safeguard the public's interests, and the manner in which the agreement was disregarded, I will fully set forth in my next instalment.

In the ... of Wall street the business of this transaction is not to ... the ... was ... to pay $28,000,000 profit to a few men who had invested but $39,000,000—and, as I shall show when I approach this part of my story, the $39,000,000 did not even belong to them—but in the form that Mr. Rogers and Mrs. Rockefeller had given to their associates what, in the vernacular of "the street" is termed "the double cross."

The every-day people, the millions who do not know Wall street—realm of the royal American dollar—Wall street, its sidewalks inlaid with gold coin and paved from curb to curb with solid gold bricks—Wall street, lined with huge money mills, where hearts and souls are ground into gold-dust, whose gutters run full to overflowing with strangled, mangled, sand-barred wrecks of human hopes which, in a never-ending stream, it pours into the brimming waters of the river at its foot for deposit at the poorhouses, insane asylums, states' prisons, and suicides' graves, that the grim flood washes to its daily ebb and flow—the every-day people I know will not take in the blackness of this transaction at this stage of my story, but before it is ended equally black nature before them in such A B C simplicity that all can read the portent as clearly as the Prophet Daniel read the writing on the wall in the banquet hall of Belshazzar.

SOME OIL STRIKES IN KANSAS FIELDS

Luck of Tenderfoot in Getting a Gusher on "Barren Ground"—McBride and Bloom's Great Scucess Along With Other Operators.

Independence, Kan., Sept. 10.—There's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip. During the past few months great luck in the Kansas oil fields have developed there's many a ... (via) opportunity ...

Literally hundreds of men have come to Kansas from all parts of the world and looked over this farm or that, felt that it was good for oil, looked confident, put up a few hundred dollars and went away.

Later some tenderfoot ... along and drilled in ... this well and made his fortune. In many instances ... have been lying for months and years ... after which they were drawn up, for some one else to take and make a fortune. Numerous cases might be cited where ... have been drilled ... and a ... and after someone with ... experience came in and drilled a ... gusher.

Some of the largest ... have thus been made. Recently ... Sherbe gave a lease on his farm to ... and others. ... A short time after the lease was given Sherbe ... prospector Sherbe released the ... contained a bonus of $50 ...

A Telegram.

Some months ago an Independence contractor received a telegram instructing him to drill a well on certain farm. He replied by telegraph, "Better first ... [illegible] ... his tract was completely surrounded by dry holes. "That makes no difference," ... [illegible] ... have told me associates we would drill a well on the location; they have put up the money; they expect the well to be drilled. If we fail—well, we can all afford it. The well was drilled, and to the surprise of everyone it flowed and made a fine producer. Not one of many hundred would have given ten cents on the dollar for the hopes the prospect held out.

T. N. Barnsdall, the Pittsburg, Pa., gas king, sent Foster Mitchell out to ... county from Pennsylvania to round up a bunch of leases. Mitchell got a line on thousands of acres northwest of Independence, and submitted the matter to Barnsdall by wire. Duly were turned down. A few months later the famous Bolton pool was struck and the leases which Mitchell could have had for the asking were bringing small fortunes. A single farm in this district has produced over $100,000 worth of oil to its own ...

Rider, Miller & Black, of Pittsburg, Pa., some weeks ago abandoned their No. 1 on the Mandle farm. Wayside sand as a hopeless duster. Later a second sand was found on an adjoining lease, and they ran down another well which, too, was almost a duster. After that they moved the rig back to No. 1 and got a 3-barrel well. And the beauty of these wells is their exceptionally staying qualities.

Paved Up Farm.

Dozens of men passed on the Bragg farm at Wayside as giving no promise of production. After Pingrey came out here from Bradford, Pa., and leased it. His friends felt sorry for him and suggested financial assistance. Swanson had run a rig and drill shop at Parkersburg, W. Va., and had saved up a few hundred dollars. He consented to ... all alone. ... was, as all Benson's is, "I know no one will suffer for ... Pingrey" he replied to his friends. He has drilled 14 wells and ... only one of them was even a failure. When he came to No. 13 he got superstitious and dropped that location and drilled No. 14. No. 13 was dry. Benson's thirteen wells are producing 11,000 barrels a month and he is getting 90 cents a barrel for it. Benson was a ... struggle a few years ago, and ... Tom White nominated W. A. Stone for ... governor of Pennsylvania. His employers wanted him to vote for W. A. Stone, but he had a personal preference and voted for Charles W. Stone. Soon after that he was out of a job and so that incident before ... attributes his success since then to his peddling his own ... and ... with equally ... resulting fortune.

A year ago the Consolidated Oil and Gas company drilled a well on the Madden farm, north of Independence, in which a small showing of oil was found. It was not considered worth shooting. Recently a well was drilled on the Maddden farm on the school. Only a small trace of oil was found in the hole and the well was about to be abandoned, when Mr. Madden remarked the fact would not be there to ... unless the well was shot. ... difference and a ... was ... As oil is found at the shallow depth of 430 feet, one ... farmers ...

HEMATITE IS ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF LOCAL CAPITAL

The new mining camp at Hematite, a few miles from Salida, of which the Gazette has occasion to make frequent mention within the last few days, seems to be booming up better than ever. Encouraging reports of new finds and of ... a number of prospectors in the district are continually coming in, making the success of the camp almost assured.

Mr. W. E. Marble, the well known mining man of this city, has just received a letter from Secretary C. J. Kennedy, of the Salida chamber of commerce, which gives a flattering account of the new field. "Everything is booming up at the old," writes Mr. Kennedy, in referring to Salida's interest in the new camp. "... we will be able to handle the crowds ... We will do our best at entertaining ... there here at Salida and they will have ... [illegible] ... Hematite.

Referring to the new strikes of gold in the camp the writer says: "There has been a bona fide splendid strike in the Empress about a mile in the direction of ... It is four ... and promises to make a mine without a doubt. The Jasper has struck richer ore than ever. The Terrible mine across ... is getting ... from Hematite at 45 feet, has the pay from Hematite at 45 feet, has surely got into elegant ore. It promises ...

Mr. Marble in company with a well known local mining expert, will leave the city this evening for the new camp to make a more thorough canvass of the situation. Should their mission prove successful, important ... may be looked for at any time.

FIRM UNDERTONE IN STOCK MARKET

SUMMER STATE OF CITY TRADING CAUSES AN IRREGULAR MOVEMENT IN STOCKS—RAILWAY ISSUES STRONG.

New York, Sept. 10.—As a result largely of further heavy profit-taking stocks moved rather irregularly today. ... The tendency of many issues was toward a higher level. Indeed, several of the more active issues, such as U. S. Steel common and preferred, reached a new high price. Business was unusually heavy for the short session though not widely distributed. Southern railway was the feature of the railway group in the early trading. Later, Union Pacific, Atchison and other ... were strong, but ... elsewhere in the list the activity was confined chiefly to the minor railway and industrial shares. Total sales of bonds were $1,...
